

Not much to say regarding the end of the year for the Save Willard's Clock project. We had three pledge donations come in and they were larger ones. We continue to receive donations. One family did a creative thing to get family members to give and that was much appreciated. We have put up a sign on the location where the new clock tower will sit to let those who don't know where that is. Nice sign designed by Kevin Casto. Kevin has been a valuable planner on our committee as all members have been.
